COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS

CENTRAL SQUARE

Traditionally Cambridge's downtown, Central Square is the seat of city government and serves as an important transportation node with subway and regional bus links. The Square enjoys a vibrant atmosphere from ethnic restaurants, interesting shops, offices, and a diverse nightlife.

EAST CAMBRIDGE

East Cambridge features a longstanding neighborhood retail corridor along Cambridge Street, flanked by Inman Square on the west and Lechmere Square on the east, with a variety of restaurants and specialty shops. Beyond Lechmere Square, the East Cambridge riverfront features hotels, apartment buildings and condominiums, high-tech businesses, the CambridgeSide Galleria regional shopping mall, and the Museum of Science.

KENDALL SQUARE

In the last three decades, Kendall Square has been transformed from a former industrial district to one of the world's leading centers for biotech research and innovation. The Square has seen the accompanying growth of hotels, restaurants, and shops that serve the area's cluster of life science and technology firms, the MIT community, and surrounding neighborhoods. Several major developments occupy part of the Kendall Square area, including Cambridge Center, Cambridge Research Park, Technology Square, and One

Kendall Square. Alexandria Real Estate is in the process of adding another series of major lab and office buildings on the northern side of the district, along Binney Street. Kendall has come into its own as a residential destination as well, with the recent completion of over 900 rental housing units.

HARVARD SQUARE

Home to Harvard University, this Square is an international destination, mixing history and learning with contemporary arts and entertainment. A unique blend of restaurants, shops and cultural offerings draws residents, students, professionals and visitors. With 900,000 square feet of retail space, Harvard Square functions as a regional shopping center in a dynamic urban environment.

NORTH POINT

North Point is comprised of an older industrial area and railroad yard located north of Monsignor Obrien Highway. Its close proximity to downtown Boston and public transit have brought increased attention in recent years, with the construction of over 900 units of housing, a new hotel, and the North American headquarters for Education First. The heart of the area is permitted for a 4.4 million square-foot mixed-use project. The project, when built out, will create an entirely new neighborhood of the city and will encompass 2.2 million square feet of commercial/R&D and retail space and 2,400 to 2,700 housing units.

PORTER SQUARE/UPPER MASS AVE

With links to the subway and commuter rail, Porter Square is a local and regional shopping destination with a mix of large and small retail shops. Along Mass. Ave., an assortment of distinctive independent stores serves adjacent residential neighborhoods. The presence of Lesley University in Porter Square also brings the liveliness of student life to the area.

LOWER CAMBRIDGEPORT

This district includes University Park—a 27-acre mixed use development of 2.3 million square feet of office, commercial, hotel, and residential space—and the new Sidney Research Campus, a campus hosting smaller life sciences tenants.

INMAN SQUARE

Inman Square is a lively district with a mix of housing and ground floor retail uses that gives it a strong neighborhood feel combined with shopping and dining activity. Businesses here are primarily owner-operated and include a variety of restaurants, cafes, nightspots and specialty stores.

FRESH POND/ALEWIFE AND HURON VILLAGE

Served by regional roadways and public transit, this area serves businesses, light manufacturing, housing, and retail uses. Fresh Pond is also a major shopping center serving West Cambridge residents, workers, and commuters. Nearby, Huron Village has a cluster of neighborhood restaurants and specialty shops that serve the surrounding community.
